

Eureka LMS

Filling in the skills gap

80% of CEOs worry about the availability of key skills

76% are concerned (22% are extremely concerned) about the lack of digital skills within their own workforce

60% are rethinking the HR function to accelerate the wider company's digital transformation

For companies to survive in a highly competitive world, a well-educated, skilled and productive workforce is required. But skills gaps appear throughout the company and it's almost impossible to provide just-in-time training fast enough to keep people up to date and the company competitive.

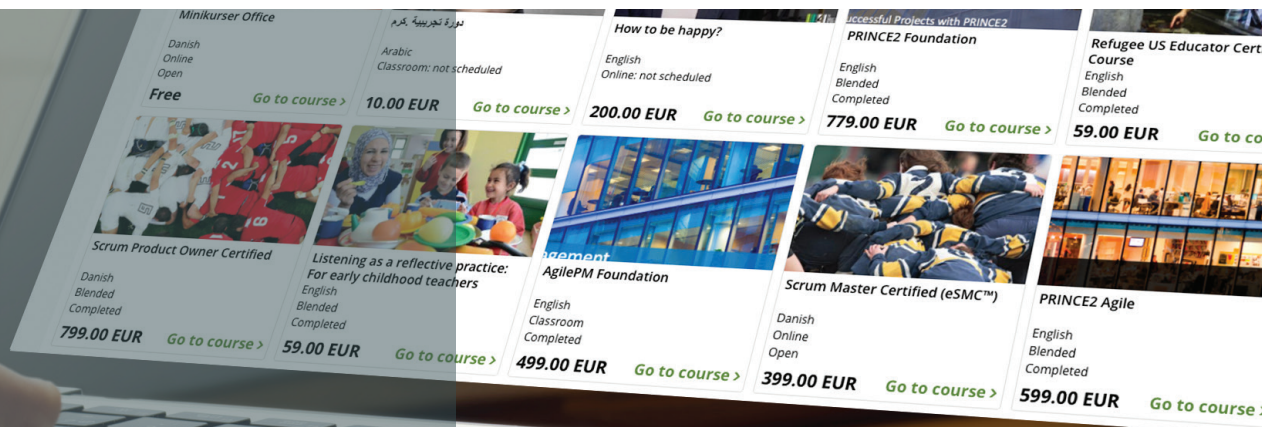

Companies need to pay careful attention to employee engagement to make sure they keep a well-educated, skilled and productive workforce.

This means that the right training at the right time for all employees is needed—so they're confident and ready to be productive and contribute to business growth. With the proper training, employees will feel nurtured and developed, which translates into more valuable and productive employees.

The Eureka learning management system (LMS) is a solution that gives your training department the right tools, time and knowledge to produce engaging, fun and educational learning content, when and where your people need it.

When you implement the Eureka LMS, you build exceptional content up to five times faster than industry average—and most importantly, the content is produced by your subject matter experts.
